

Global Goals Academy 1 - Beyond COP21: Australia's Climate Impact

4 February 2016

In partnership with NAB and the Good Beer Co, this event brought together a panel of climate change, environment and carbon leaders to discuss what the COP21 global agreement on climate change means for Australia.

Nicola Murphy (National Australia Bank Head of Sustainability); Arron Wood (City of Melbourne Councillor); Peter Castellanos (CEO Carbon Market Institute) and Amandine Denis (ClimateWorks Head of Research) all took part in this thought-provoking discussion.

Global Goals Academy 2: Embracing Diversity and Equality

19 May 2016

In partnership with Australia Post, this panel of diversity, inclusion and equality professionals and industry leaders explored varying perspectives on this field and the latest trends and developments.

Dai Le (Chief Diversity & Inclusion Director, DAWN – Promoting Culturally Diverse Leadership); Yolanda Beattie (Principal and Practice Leader, Diversity & Inclusion, Mercer), Chris Heelan (National Inclusion Director, Australia Post) and Sam Almaliki (Cricket Australia) led this engaging conversation.

Global Goals Academy 3: Supply Chain and Human Rights

18 August 2016

This event looked at the role of humanitarianism in cultivating sustainable supply chain practices, both domestically and internationally.

Jonathan Dutton (Non-Executive Director at ACCSR), Andrew Miller (United Nations and Australian Air Force logistician) and David McCallum, Futureye's Head of Planning and Engagement led this important discussion.
