

Promotion of Children's Rights and Issues

FINALIST

Beau Donelly
The Age

Australian Girl on the run in Africa

A three-month long campaign by The Age shone a light on cultural violence against women and put a face to the practice of genital mutilation.

It prompted an immediate outcry of support in Australia and forced the Federal Government to take immediate action to protect the girl and her African mother.

