You Can't Ask That

You Can't Ask That offers a platform for some of the most judged and least understood people in our community to speak directly to Australia. The program invited Australians to anonymously send in the naive, cheeky or uncomfortable questions they wish they could ask these groups of people, and put these questions directly to guests. Episode 1: Short Statured, Episode 2: Wheelchair Users and Episode 10: Terminally Ill attempt to break down stereotypes and offer genuine insight into the lives of people who live with labels, providing answers to the questions Australians wanted to ask but were too embarrassed, afraid or lacked proximity and courage to ever ask in person.
