

Print

FINALIST

Ben Doherty
Guardian Australia
Lives in Limbo

Ben Doherty, Guardian Australia's immigration correspondent, has led coverage that focused on the lives of asylum seekers and refugees, seeking to give voice to marginalised people.

In collaboration with other reporters, data and video journalists and a network of contacts, Doherty produced a series of reports that explored Australia's detention system in unprecedented detail.

