FINALIST

Sue Lannin
ABC Radio
East Timor Hitlist

This story added to the public debate about East Timor and Australia's knowledge about the 1975 Indonesian invasion. It was particularly timely as it went to air a day before the 40th anniversary of Fretilin's 1975 declaration of independence and amid renewed controversy over the Timor Gap Treaty.

Sue Lannin discussed and explored the significance of the discovery of a key document in Australia's national archive, which ultimately raised serious questions about Australia's prior knowledge of the invasion and its aftermath.
