SBS World News
Syria: Five Years of Crisis

SBS World News reports on Syria most nights. When the war marked its fifth anniversary on 14 March, the network believed the tragic milestone deserved great emphasis, not simply a token line; so it dedicated its first segment to Syria.

It included a special opener, news of the day, a brief conflict timeline, a rare look at life in rebel-held territory provided by CNN's Clarissa Ward and some brave women recording the situation in IS-held Raqqa, in a video commissioned by a Swedish newspaper.
